Flight Schedule Changes

We want to strive to meet everyone's schedules flights with no interruptions. However sometimes things happen that affect flights. Below are some of the things that would affect a scheduled light.

1. Someone's check ride gets scheduled. DPE's are hard to come by these days and we need to accommodate these when we are available.
2. Aircraft goes down for maintenance unexpectedly. If an aircraft goes down for maintenance and there is not enough room available in other aircraft the schedule will be prioritized in which flights can be accommodated as best as possible. This may mean a slight time change or rescheduling a flight entirely.
3. Student load for a certain day becomes too great. Sometimes weather can delay days' worth of flights. When students are close to a check ride date it is imperative to keep their skills up. This may require finding open slots in available aircraft. This would mostly impact overnight trips.
